OUR INSANE.

A special reporter of the Virginia Chronicle has visited the insane asylum at Stockton, where Nevada farms her insane wards. He finds nothing wrong but concludes in the following strain:

I have visited the California State asylum at this place and am acquainted with the treatment of the insane there. I come to this conclusion, this judgment: That the insane of Nevada are as well housed, as well clothed, as well fed and as skillfully treated as are any other insane persons on this coast. You wanted the truth. You have it.

The Chronicle reporter evidently made quite a thorough examination, but we should prefer to know the result of an investigation made in an off time, when there was less stir in regard to the institution. It is rather poor policy to send word to a man that you will come down and see whether he keeps his house clean. That house will be clean upon your arrival. We have not believed in the charges as made against Messrs. Langdon and Clark, but we do believe that the time has come for us to have our State institution. There can be no argument, economical or sanitary, which will encourage the maintenance of a private asylum in another State. There is nothing but speculation and chicanery in such contracts and the mode in which they are secured. Dishonest legislators are the only men who would allow their State to occupy such a pitiable position for years without attempting a remedy. These inspections are about as valuable as a blind policeman, and are calculated to smooth the main issue, so that it may be lost.

It matters not whether Langdon & Clark are models of generosity or fiends in human shape. This general jobbing of every price of State work to the highest California bidder is played out. We want a State asylum in Nevada. We don't want a California man to manage it. We want a Legislature which will recognize Nevada as free and independent, and build up her public institutions in accordance with her rank among the productive States of this Union. We can then step over and inspect alleged abuses ourselves without the trouble of going to some foreign country.

PACIFIC COAST TIMBER.

The timber laws have been changed at last by the passage of the bills proposed last winter, as a solution of difficulties between the Interior Department and the lumbermen of this coast.

All doubts as to the fate of the two Pacific coast timber-land bills were set at rest Monday by the official announcement made to the Senate that the President had approved them. Although they go immediately upon the statute books as laws of that date, they will not become effectual for practical purposes until the regulations and instructions required by their terms to be prescribed and issued by the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior shall have been received at the various local land offices. The preparation and issuance of these regulations will probably require about a fortnight. One of these bills provides for the sale of timber lands in California, Oregon, Nevada and Washington Territory, and also for individual use of timber from public lands by miners and agriculturists, purchasing it. The other bill authorizes timber to be taken for mining and domestic purposes only from mineral lands in Nevada, Colorado and the Territories.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The recent attempts to assassinate Emperor William in Germany are a result of the communistic spirit which now seems to be spreading in all lands. There are men in Germany who deserve lynching; also in America. Potter committee please take notice.

Albert Adams, the young man who was killed by R. A. Clark in Carson, on Sunday, was buried in Carson on Tuesday. The community does not justify the killing, but remembers Adams as a good young man, who left many friends to mourn for his untimely death.

The Eureka Republican says that Cassidy has been healed by Tom Williams on account of the latter's senatorial aspirations. From another quarter comes the report that General Tom will put up one millions ducaats for patriotic purposes, while the Enterprise avers that General Thomas H. Williams will not hurl his castor into the ring on any consideration. A more pronounced rumor is to the effect that General Williams will stump the State to beat Cassidy for Congress, in return for that gentleman's attention years ago.

A favorite plank in the Kearneyite State and county platforms of the Workingmen is, that the pardoning power shall be abolished, the State Constitution being changed to that effect.—Exchange.

Yes, and the Kearneyites are about right in this regard. Executive clemency crops out rather too strongly both in this State and California. Donovan and Harrington were sent to the Nevada penitentiary for murder. After a few months they were pardoned. Donovan killed his second or third man in less than two years, while Harrington again gratified his thirst for blood in about one year. Both have been returned to their old quarters.—Eureka Sentinel.

The Eureka Republican, after setting forth the fact that George W. Cassidy actually cherishes a hope that the people of Nevada will send him to represent them in Congress, reviews that gentleman's record in this way:

The most distinguished act of his senatorial career was the open repudiation of the pledges which secured his election over an opponent who had the advantage of being a gentleman. The main issue between Cassidy and the gentleman was the modification of the bullion tax. The gentleman believed that the tax should be modified. Cassidy gave his word of honor to the people that his vote should be against any modification, and on that pledge he was elected. How shamelessly he forewore himself has not been forgotten.

Among the largest items in the general deficiency bill, now pending in Congress, are the following for the fiscal year ending June, 1878: Navy, $766,000; civil establishments in navy yards, $82,000; postmasters, $400,007; revenue department of the postoffice, $550,000; for repayment to importers the excess of deposits for unascertained duties, etc., $250,000; for refunding of taxes illegally or erroneously collected under the revenue laws, $150,000; for defraying expenses of United States Courts, federal and circuit, and suits, prosecutions, etc., $20,000. The bill aggregates $1,100,000 for the payment of certain claims under the navy department, incurred by Secretary Robeson. The committee left without recommendations, $2,400,000 of similar claims to be acted on by the house.

"We are a Republican, but we want a Democrat for Attorney-General, and a Democrat for Governor, and a Democrat for Constable. We are a Democrat, but damn Bradley and Jewett Adams and both their houses. We are an Independent—but we are tired of honest men. Give us a thief! We are a little of everything, but we are down on every man who wants office and don't subscribe for our paper. We are the only reformer and great champion of the people between hell and breakfast. Any man who thinks we ain't anything and everything we say we are is a dirty liar and would steal the pennies from the eyes of a deceased African." The foregoing is a condensed compilation of the editorials in the Carson Tribune for the past week.—Reveille.

They will have fine crops in Idaho and Oregon this year. We are strengthened in this belief by the customary Indian outbreak which is reported. The granger makes the scare; the scare makes requisitions, and requisitions make relief bills; General Howard makes the reports. The gallant veterans who have made $13 per month will now squander it for fresh eggs and milk. The settler will be happy, and the playful Bannock will steal his horses solely because he seems to desire it. We have ordered the following item set up for constant use during the campaign: "Nine settlers were set upon by a savage Bannock, this morning. They repelled him. General Howard is only three days behind the Indian. Barley is scarce and commands a high price."

The Silver State has discovered a strange inconsistency in our course. We have favored an investigation into irregularities among county officials, but have not been able to see the beauties and virtues of the Potter movement. The Silver State editor was in the White Pine Indian war and lost an ear. He hears now only on one side of his head, which is strictly Democratic, therefore he deems us inconsistent. We hope that he will not bring any more proofs, as the one already cited is quite overwhelming.

Tybo Sun: The man who pledges himself to a certain course in the event of his election, and then does to the contrary is a villain, and no sophistry will hide the fact or justify the treachery. The vile doctrine that "platforms are made to catch votes, and are not binding," is an insult to the intelligence of voters, and the worthy argument of a tricky and unscrupulous demagogue whose honor is entirely subservient to his purse and his ambition.

Mrs. Van Cott is to be on this coast soon. He labors will begin in San Francisco.—E.

She will also bring a car load of tracts, healing potions for diseased souls, and bandages for dislocated morals. The dispatches fail to say whether she will also bring her veracity, an important garment which, in the hurry of packing, she forgot on a previous visit. Mrs. Van Cott wants to be crucified, and, if there is no objection, it is so ordered.

"Long may you live in the land of the silver, and the home of the Democrats." The Footlight said this about one of its contemporaries. The home of the Democrats is not clearly defined upon any map which we possess, but we take the text above quoted as a fresh and forcible argument in favor of removing the insane asylum from Stockton. The home of the Democrats is too far away, just now.

In Indian who refuses to give his name was convicted yesterday before Judge Keiser, for catching fish in a trap.—Truckee Republican.

We suggest, neighbor, the bare possibility that his name is "Jim." "James" is a very popular name among the red population from time immemorial. The suggestion is made, not with a desire to prejudice the case, but that the course of justice may not be obstructed.

Every man with a prominent forehead and a distance or three barley corns between the eyes will endorse the Graphic in relation to the Tuscarora "what-is-it?"

Constant companionship with a neat, dainty, refined and delicate woman must be more agreeable—in some respects at least—to intimate association with a coarse, blustering brute of a man who drinks whiskey, chews tobacco and bathes once in six months.

The meeting of the editors and publishers of the Pacific coast has been postponed from June 6th to Tuesday, June 25th, 12 o'clock noon, at the Palace hotel.

We don't know as we can get there, but we unite in the proposed opposition to the Moffet bill; push; also the enactment of a law to make extensive advertising compulsory. That is our platform by a large majority. [Our special rates are very enticing.]

The Eureka Sentinel eagerly grabs up everything which resembles a justification of its bullion tax course. It licks up every crumb, and does not get fat then. In searching for reasons to justify acts which were objectionable, and mend pledges which were broken, the Sentinel resembles a blind tramp looking for bones in a cow yard.

The Virginia Chronicle wants the "finger of hissing scorn" pointed at Hayes. If any reader of this paper has such a finger concealed about his person, he can become a pointer by visiting the Chronicle office. If there is a "thumb of howling contempt" handy, we speak for it. It belongs to Mr. Potter, general agent of special frauds for the Democracy.

Could there be a severer comment on the Democratic party of Nevada than their present difficulty in finding men to offer themselves for nomination upon their ticket?—Eureka Republican.

Yes; we think so. A glance at the men when found will test our judgment.

Concerning the assertion of saintly Deacon P., that the Tribune is left all alone to fight the battle of the people, the Bodie Standard remarks that the people of Nevada are indeed in extremity, and deserve the sympathy of the outside world.

The New York Mercury editor, having no doubt heard of us, sends us a copy of his paper. We were at a loss to know how we had deserved the present, but upon closer inspection we find an article which was no doubt intended for us. It is a sepulchral warning against over-working the brain. The editor cites us to Walter Scott, Dean Swift, Dickens, Deacon Parkinson and other examples of this over-work. The arguments which the Mercury cites to us are entirely convincing, and although we have at times been rather industrious, we shall cease. The necessity of checking off large collections, and directing the disposition of a considerable bank account has caused us anxiety of late. But enough said, sir. We acknowledge our fault, and will try to correct it.

The Enterprise says:

People should not mistake love of peace for irresolution. Democrats will find that President Hayes knows how to deal with rebellion should they again attempt to inaugurate it.

And in another paragraph adds:

The Democrats will find food for thought in the fact that the hot discussion in Republican newspapers about "indorsing" or "ignoring" the administration in the party platforms this fall has suddenly ceased. There is scarcely a word on the subject to be seen in the newspapers. The paramount idea is to keep the party solid against its old enemy, and not to waste ammunition on internal disagreements.

The Democrats have been surprised all along that it ever commenced. The above will also furnish food for thought in the brain of Roscoe Conkling.

Concerning the Potter devilry the Enterprise says to the Sentinel:

Notwithstanding the general curiosity to know "how Mr. Hayes got his seat," do you believe a fair investigation is intended? Alexander H. Stephens says it is not intended to be fair. Finally, don't you believe that the first object is simply to "catch votes," and that the ultimate hope is to precipitate a new revolution?

Now that is all correct, but we mildly suggest that it was unkind for the Enterprise to say "catch votes." That paper sustained Mr. Cassidy in his vote-catching proposition throughout. Who sustains him now? Not one paper in the State. Mr. Sentinel, your Comstock friend has reversed his engines.

The Eureka Republican lately drew from a pigeon hole the record of Geo. W. Cassidy as State Senator. The body of the document was examined and then the Republican editor grasped it by the hair of the head and dragged it around the office until it was a total wreck. An account of the editor's supreme disgust appeared in the Republican and the Reveille says if this attack on the Sentinel's editor don't bring him to his feet in reply and acknowledgment of the Republican's existence, then he has the toughest hide on record.

The Stock Report naively reports: The Carson Tribune is shaping the politics of Nevada. Other Silver State papers put in protests now and then, but they are of no avail.

The Republican says:

The character of the candidates will be of far more consequence in gaining success in the coming campaign than the backing of all the millionaires on the Pacific coast.

Sh—you mustn't say that. Just think what a deal of prosperity the millionaires and corporations have given to Nevada.

Stewart's great hotel, erected in New York for a woman's hotel, is a failure.—E.

It never was anything else. A. T. Stewart thought to make money and a cheap reputation for generosity out of that tavern, and failed. Instead of being a free institution, as published, it cost more per week per head than a laboring man could earn. Besides, the presence of lovely man was forbidden, and the ladies couldn't endure that. They have soured on the institution, and returned to the busy haunts of men. Good taste.

The Reveille has been instructing the Sentinel in regard to the Potter resolution, and in conclusion is unkind enough to ask the following broad conundrum:

If political trickery, and putting up jobs, and bulldozing men into office, and playing it low down in office and out of office were penitentiary offenses, where would the virtuous editor of the Sentinel be? It makes us "larf" to hear him talk about investigating anybody for such offenses. "Physician, heal thyself!"

The Reveille says concerning the Eureka Republican:

Conducting that paper is a man who is a journalist of acknowledged ability, a forcible writer, and one who can't be coughed down.

The Reveille is eminently correct, especially in the "coughing down" clause.

We should always profit by foreign examples.—Virginia Chronicle.

Yes; there is also some virtue in the native specimen. Democratic editors might inspect the record of Anderson, the crutch upon which the crippled Potter resolution now leans.

HELP HIM.

The date of our spring races has now been definitely settled, and a reading of the programme will show that Mr. Norcross has been generous in his provision for a successful meeting. We commend his magnanimity to the Carsonites as an example worthy of imitation, and hope that it may increase the success which already seems assured to the meeting. The track is in the best of order and every accommodation is ready for use. There is already stock enough at the track to fill the races, and more is yet to come. The lessee does not expect to make money out of this spring meeting, but believes it can be made a benefit to the town. There will be ample proof of his judgment if our citizens show the proper spirit in helping the matter along. We should all do something by way of extending invitations to friends in other towns to be present. We have an excellent programme to talk about and should make its provisions known to outsiders. If you have no horses you can talk, at least, and make known to everybody the prominent features of the meeting appointed for June 27th, 28th and 29th.

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?

Carson, Virginia city, Winnemucca, Eureka, Austin, Ragtown, Milpetas, Saucelito, and every other town on this coast will burn fire-crackers, and salute the flag of flags on July 4th. It is about time we said yes or no to the question which heads this article. We can, at a slight outlay, have a grand picnic at Glendale or the fair grounds, where we can join company with our friends from the country and pass the day pleasantly. No real outlay is necessary, because we have everything at home which is needed in the celebration. There is no doubt of our ability to get up a celebration at slight cost which shall fill our sidewalks with people and furnish amusement for everybody. How shall it be done, or shall it be done at all? These are questions which should be answered right away. There are many who favor home celebrations, and if they wish their views carried out they should take action in the matter.

THAT TIMBER BILL.

The Nevada Transcript claims that the timber bill, lately signed, was the most important which has been passed this session of Congress, and ascribes to A. B. Dibble, Esq., credit for its passage.

The main features of the bill will be remembered by the great majority of newspaper readers, who have from time to time had their attention directed to the subject by the press of the coast. By its provisions, timber lands may be purchased from the government at a stipulated sum per acre—$2 50. Those sections which have been previously occupied by individuals who possessed no titles, and from which the settlers had been engaged in cutting lumber, will also revert to the same holders upon the payment of the same sum, and all prosecutions under the old law will be suspended. This law will apply to California with peculiar force, and by it millions of dollars will be saved to the people, and nothing lost to the government. The only sufferers will be the informants, who believed there was a mint of money in store for them.

DAYS RECALLED.

We have been reading to-day the oations, theses and poems which were read at the "Fair Berkeley" during the late graduation at the University of California. The refreshing sea breeze rustled the oak leaves, the boquets and wreaths hung upon the class tree, friends and parents were there and the sighing breeze took up music and perfume as it traversed the beautiful college grounds. There was feasting and merriment, too, about that class tree, and love and pride and tenderness went out towards the young men who stood there in the doorway of life. Old men and staid professors looked on in quiet, thinking perhaps of their own youth and strength, while the actors before them had naught in heart or hand, but the day with its mirth and display. We saw and heard all this we read, just as it was one bright June day in '75. Yet this was not the train of thought awakened by these studied literary efforts and the remembrance of our own commencement day. We found in the same paper a manly effort, from one who graduated into life years ago, and there was something grotesque in the comparison. Here were his young friends talking of worlds, centuries space and time, while he, their senior, found his hands full with to-day and man. Here was the young orator, speaking with an experience which was all joyful, about ideal conditions which could alone be more enjoyable. Here was the man whom the world had jostled, admitting the impossibility of youthful hopes, and urging the value of practice and experience. The untried believes the world is easy of conquest; he will not let these old fogies frighten him with experience, because he will make his own experience. The man of years looks in upon these thoughts and while he sees their weakness hesitates to deprive the youth of a dream which is the treasure of every man, but once during a life. The young knight would take his memento from the class tree, and decorated with this badge wage the fight without fear; he has selected his hobby and is eager to mount and be away; the world is full of fame and pleasure for him, and he is eager to possess them. And yet but a few years hence he will envy his quiet senior who has learned that roses are the flowers of spring, and the modest evergreen alone survives the year.

There have been numberless battles which history has not recorded, and there are unrecorded graves where lie unnumbered hopes, born of youth and strength. The aged veteran who delights in youth and its vigor, finds his pleasure in remembering his own buoyant springtime, when plans were made which compassed nothing.

THAT SCHOOL-HOUSE.

Considerable interest has been awakened by the announcement that the School Trustees had resolved to issue bonds for $20,000 and proceed with another school building. It has been received as a fact by many citizens that the proposition was defeated under the statute. The Trustees inform us, however, that they have consulted legal authority which satisfies them that they can with safety proceed. Although not claiming any degree of special knowledge upon the subject, we are inclined to doubt their authority in the premises, unless they can make some public announcement of their plans, which may conciliate many who are dissatisfied. We believe that the vote upon an abstract question of increasing school facilities would carry by a large majority. But we have always regarded the manner of providing these as legitimate subject for discussion. This was the only misunderstanding which threw a cloud upon the election. And notwithstanding repeated suggestions made by good men, there was no explanation of the plan which was intended. There are many men who will oppose the issuance of these bonds and obstruct their negotiation in every way. It would be very unfortunate if a conflict of opinion should ensue. We hope that the town may be provided with more school facilities. We believe it can be accomplished by an understanding between the Trustees and those who are dissatisfied. This would prevent all opposition.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Gold, silver and legal tender remain with little change, and Trades are very scarce.

During the past week mining stocks have made a slight advance, particularly Ophir and Julia. To-day the bonanza mines declare their regular monthly dividends. An assessment of $1 per share has been levied on Justice, which is delinquent July 13th. The bullion shipments for the week are: Independence, $19,480 20; Silver Prize, $3,792 22; Hussey, $6,220 72; Leopold, $3,100 24; Tybo, for the past month, $33,246 84; Northern Belle, on the 1st instant, $5,255 01; Modoc Con., $30,000; Star, $4,274.

The Yellow Jacket delinquent assessment sale took place to-day at the office in Gold Hill. The assessment amounts to $340,000, but most of it has been paid up, and comparatively few shares were offered at the sale, and yet it is nearly seven years since a dividend was paid.

Belmont, Ward, and Empire assessments were delinquent yesterday.

Crown Point has levied an assessment of $1 per share.

The Black Hawk (Bodie), has levied an assessment of 25 cents, and the Justice $1.

The Morgan Mining Company has levied an assessment of 50 cents per share.

Trojan levies an assessment of 25 cents per share.

The aggregate number of shares of Comstock stock changing hands at the San Francisco Stock Exchange during the month of May was 1,848,845 shares, of which number Julia scores the highest, viz: 348,113, or the whole mine three times over.

Trade in San Francisco market is duller than it has been, and prices of many of the staple articles are lower last week. In the home market trade is improving and has been very active with a few of our merchants, with others trade is very dull. Butter and eggs are not active in the market while vegetables, and especially potatoes are in demand. Wool is dull and very little sale is found for it, this is caused by large quantities of wool being on hand at all the central shipping ports east and west. Wool has also fallen two cents on the pound. In our markets 20,000 pounds of wool is stored in warehouses awaiting shipment.

For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best, medical and surgical treatment, for free, and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.

To the Afflicted:

Dr. L. J. Czapkay would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE and resumed the practice of his profession. The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession, the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrh, diseases of the stomach and kidneys, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated. Those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medical cases sent by express. Address: L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., 209 Kearney St., San Francisco.

Foreign.

In Bulgaria typhus fever is increasing with warm weather.

The officers of the German ironclad Koenig Wilhelm declare that the collision was caused by the failure of her steering gear.

The Russians and Bulgarians have attacked the Mohammedan insurgent but were repulsed everywhere except near Ortrakeni.

The steamer Idaho, of Williams & Guion's line, went ashore and foundered on the coast of Ireland on the 1st. Passengers and crew saved.

The English government has offered a public funeral for Earl Russell at Westminster Abbey. The Lords and Commons will be invited to attend.

The Commissioner of the Porte reports that the Mohammedan insurgents number 30,000, are well armed and impregnably located. They refuse to disarm, as the Russians, they say, are powerless to repress the excesses of the Bulgarians.

Two ironclads collided in the English channel on Thursday. The latest news from the scene of action is as follows: The latest from Dover says the forward part of the ironclad Koenig Wilhelm is under water. W. H. Smith, first Lord of the Admiralty, stated in the House of Commons this afternoon that according to the reports received by the Lords of the Admiralty from 180 to 200 of the crew of the Grosser Kurfurst had been saved and 300 perished.

Russia and England seem to have agreed upon a patched up basis for a Congress, and there is little doubt but such a body will meet. Whether it will secure peace in Europe is another question. Austria seems to have become alarmed at the success of the separate negotiations between Great Britain and the Czar, and unless her demands are complied with at the Congress war will assuredly follow. The dispatches, too, inform us that the Russian people are incensed against the government for its humiliating concessions to England. The European muddle growing out of the "production of Bulgarian Christians," is by no means cleared yet.

The latest statement is that of 500 men on the Grosser Kurfurst, the German ironclad sunk in the English channel on Friday, about 210 were saved.

A Vienna correspondent says: The Turkish people and army, especially the latter, are greatly irritated by the reinstatement of Mahomud Damad Pasha and other reactionary signs.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says the public are semi-officially warned not to believe the various reports concerning the concessions by Russia. The people, nevertheless, fear they are too great.

It is now officially announced that the German government has issued invitations for a congress of the European powers to assemble in Berlin June 11th. Prince Bismark will preside.

The people of Russia are greatly dissatisfied at the secret negotiations now in progress. They fear the results of the war will be nullified. Austrian occupation of Adakaleh confirms them in their suspicions.

The war cables are again vindicated. The congress meets. Russia has made moderate concessions, but none which will deprive her of the substantial fruits of the war or which will rehabilitate Turkey as a powerful enemy in her path. The concessions include nothing which Lord Derby did not know could be had long before his retirement from the ministry, which seemed bent on war with Russia or her humiliation. The result is his vindication. To the congress is referred only strictly international questions, including the navigation of the Danube and opening of the Straits. It is doubtful if the congress will sustain England's demands that Russia shall have neither territory nor security for her war indemnity. The best opinion is that the matter will all be disposed of during the month of July.

The Anglo-Russian agreement that Russia shall retain Bessarabia of itself abrogates the Treaty of Paris, for which England professed solitude until she had bound Russia not to sit down at Bajazid on England's road to India. This bargain is also England's final abandonment of betrayed and fallen Turkey. The whole scheme is recognized as an absolute diplomatic triumph for the Czar and a substantial defeat for the Beaconsfield policy.

A London special of the 3rd says a

Pera correspondent states that the Porte has informed England and Russia that it has agreed that Thessaly, Epirus and Crete shall be annexed to Greece, and that all the Turkish provinces shall be made autonomous.

A Vienna dispatch says the Russians have arranged for a mutual withdrawal from the vicinity of Constantinople, as far as England is concerned, but have stipulated that the Turks must evacuate Shumla and Varna, and not advance beyond the lines of Tchaldana.

A Berlin dispatch of June 3rd reports that on Sunday while the Emperor of Germany was taking a drive some shots, apparently proceeding from a house in the avenue Unter der Linden, were fired at him. The Emperor was wounded in one arm and on the cheek by buckshot and small shot.

The would-be assassin is a Dr. Nobeling, occupying apartments at No. 18 Unter der Linden. When the door was forced in he fired upon and wounded the hotel-keeper and tried to commit suicide, but was secured. The Emperor's personal attendant jumped into the carriage and supported the Emperor until the carriage reached the palace. The Emperor was conveyed to his bed and several grains of shot extracted, causing great loss of blood. He suffered great pain, but never lost consciousness. At 7 o'clock Sunday evening no serious apprehensions were felt as to his condition.

Sonoma county will have a light wheat crop, but the dairy product will reach $1,250,000. The wool clip will reach $500,000, and the fruit crop will be enormous.

A great number of fruit trees come into bearing in Los Angeles county this year. Peaches take the lead, then apricots, apples pears, quinces, etc. The cherry does not succeed. The berry production is increasing. The choicest fruits will be the most prolific. But we shall look to the orchards in our foot-hills for our best apple stock. So says the Los Angeles Express.

Old Stories Retold.

The worthy man had observed that his worthy hogs were afflicted with vermin. Now, therefore, he went for his oil can, and when at night they were convened in the piggery he, taking a candle, proceeded to apply kerosene to the surface of each pig. But the last one annoiined did unwittingly (as meaning no harm) get itself astride the candle, and a cloud by day, became a pillar of fire by night. Then, with the same intelligent instinct which prompts a man with a swarm of bees about his ears to seek the pleasures of social intercourse with his fellow citizens, this blazing porker wedged itself in among its companions, and in the brief period of time required for the conception and execution of a wink that herd of hogs was all afire! It was no end sad; it was as melancholy as ever it could be. The swine went forth through the broken walls of the fold each bearing its tower of flame and lifting up its voice. And when the country was again all dark, save for fitful flashes along the far horizon, the good man stonily, yet earnestly, and with apparent sincerity, averred that he would be Dad gummled!

A few years ago a lady of Oakland found a miserable and repulsive-looking tramp drunk by the wayside. Touched with compassion, she raised, revived, fed, sheltered, and ultimately reformed him. He afterward secured employment as a hog herder in a distant part of the country, and his benefactress lost sight of him. Last week a clean, well-dressed, and manly man called at her house, and the following conversation occurred: "Is it possible, madam, that you do not know me?" "Why, really; yes—no, it can not be—" "Indeed it is. You have been the good angel of my life. To you I owe everything; you have made me what I am." "And you are—" "A book agent. And I sell sewing machines on the installment plan. I also take orders for lightning rods, and have the finest assortment of chromos ever offered in this country. If you would like to insure your house and furniture you will find in this pamphlet full details." The sentence was never finished; the fallen tramp caught the lady's eye, and it froze him into a superior article of monumental marble; and as an ideal statue of Total Depravity he disgraced the vestibule of a local gallery of art. And that lady, by abstention from benevolence, is piling up a colossal fortune that is a menace to the State.

CRICKETS.—Tuley Frank says there are thousands of crickets as large as the end of your thumb out in this end of Spanish Spring valley. "Yes," Frank said, "millions are there." He went on to tell how he fought them once in Winnemucca valley. He predicted that unless they received attention pretty soon, the farmers of Truckee meadows will be carried away by the invaders. We understand that they can be driven by various devices, and it would be well to look out for them. A party was organized on the meadows recently and the crickets will receive the courtesies due them and some which they have not asked for.

THE REASON.—Many of our citizens were not much surprised to-day at a good old rancher and his wife who came galloping across the bridge on the keen run. The Sheriff dropped his hat trying to overtake them, and Barlow threatened to shoot the man if he did not stop. He finally hove to, and in explaining his conduct said: "Well I heard this mornin' that Gray & Isaacs was sellin' out, and the old woman left her dishes and we came down too quick. There was a good many ahead of us but we found most of 'em."

CARD OF THANKS.—The Sisters of St. Dominic return thanks to the brass band for services rendered at the entertainment and strawberry festival. Also to the ladies and gentlemen who kindly assisted at the festival. The receipts from the fair and festival amount to $254.75. This sum goes with a much larger one toward the construction of a large school building for the Sister's school.

Notice.

A meeting of the committee appointed by the tax-payers of Washoe county to investigate the charges preferred against certain county officers of said county by the two late grand juries, will be held at the office of the undersigned on Monday, June 10th, 1878, at 8 o'clock p. m. All members of said committee are requested to be present.

JOHN BOAMAN,
Chairman Original Com. of Five.

GOOD MILL WORK.—The English mill is doing some first class work on the reduction of ore, from the East Brooklyn mine. This company took 126 tons of their basest ore to this mill and are obtaining the bullion from it as close as eighty-five per cent. This ore is as base perhaps as any in this county, containing as base metals zinc and antimony.

FOR THE BAY.—Mr. A. H. Wilbur, the Western Union telegraph operator, goes to San Francisco to-night. Mr. Wilbur will be absent two or three weeks. Mr. A. B. McCoy, operator at Virginia city, will fill Mr. W's. place during the latter's absence.

The Chinese Must Go.

About 1 p. m. Wednesday, just at the hour when lazy people, who believe in three meals per diem, were quietly enjoying their noon repast the alarm of fire rang out on the sultry air, announcing that the Chinese wash-house next to the Wm. Tell house, was in a state pending active conflagration. We knew that Smith Hill had shorted on the city water, and naturally expected to have a decent local at the expense of the heathen Chinese. Alas! It might have been had not the Celestials with a little mundane assistance extinguished the combustion. The fire originated from that familiar inducer of so many fires—a defective stovepipe. The prospects at one time were first-class for a number one fire. The flames leaped heavenward, etc., but the John's gave them a terrestrial aspect with a few excited ejaculations and three old oyster cans of water. The populace dispersed and sought beer and the shade, while Getchell interposed complaint that "48's" new hose cart should have no chance for pyrotechnical recognition.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Monday afternoon Mr. Robert Morrison, who resides near Glendale, had a narrow escape from losing his life by an attack from a vicious horse. Mr. Morrison has recently purchased a large horse which is not yet broken to harness. He went out to the barn unattended by any one and commenced to harness his horse, but whilst attempting to put on the bridle, the horse reared up on his hind feet and struck Mr. M. a severe blow with both fore feet, knocking him across the manger. Before he had regained his footing the horse struck him again, knocking him this time to the ground immediately in front of the manager, and kicked or struck him again. Finally Mr. Morrison effected his escape, but is now just able to move about the house. He regards his escape as a very narrow one, indeed.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. R. Leeper met with quite a severe and painful accident near the corner of West and Fourth streets. He was holding a young horse which Master Rigger was mounting. The horse became frightened and gave a sudden start, throwing Mr. Leeper violently to the ground, and causing a severe sprain to the left thigh joint and perhaps slightly fracturing the thigh bone. The skin of his left forearm was also slightly abraded. This morning Mr. Leeper's thigh was badly swollen. Whilst he was not struck by the horse, but only fell on the hard ground, yet his fall was so sudden and in such a way as to inflict the above injuries. He may be confined to his room for several weeks.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE.—Weil Brothers, who have lately opened a branch of the Cleveland cloak and suit factory on Virginia street, desire to warn the ladies of Reno of the fact that they do not sell 17 yards of calico for $1, and overcharge in other articles to make up for it. But they do sell anything in their line cheaper than any house in Reno which buys from western dealers. There are certain dealers in Reno who are anxious to disclaim that they own the bank of England, or a peddler's pack. We accept the sentiment. We know they are not proprietors of the bank in question, and if they paid twenty-five cents on the dollar for their goods they would certainly not have a peddler's pack left.

6-6-td. WEIL BROTHERS.

FROM BODIE.—A gentleman from Bodie says that the Standard mine has enough ore in sight to run for two years, and that the Richter mine will prove a most valuable piece of mining property. He thinks that a number of good mines will yet be developed in the southern part of this district, but fears that the high wages charged by the miners may prove a drawback to this promising camp. Four dollars per day is too high a figure for wages when any number of good men may be obtained for $2 per day.

PEACHES.—Peaches are offered for sale in our markets, but the buyers are almost as scarce as this fruit is high in price. A club of bankers et al. may club together and purchase a half dozen. We have spoken for the peeling, or a chance in a lottery for the kernel.

TAX-PAYERS' MEETING CONCLUDED.

The attendance at the tax-payers' meeting Tuesday night was better than on Friday evening last. Mr. Cain, District Attorney, took the floor and proceeded to defend the action of himself and the Commissioners. They had found nothing wrong with matters after examining the first grand jury report. The full Board, District Attorney, Clerk and Auditor, had examined these matters and found them correct.

Alexander—Did Mr. Williams pass upon these matters as correct after the report?

Cain—That's the way I understood him.

Mr. Williams who was present, refused to substantiate Mr. Cain's statement, saying that he had nothing to do with the examination.

Mr. Cain went on to argue that the grand jury was not infallible. He would say nothing about the Judge for he could take care of himself.

Ten persons had examined the Sheriff's account and found it correct. In regard to allowances made in the Rover case, they were right. The witnesses had been allowed $50, $45 might have been enough, but these Humboldt men drank some whisky and it was represented that they ought to be given their actual expenses. The allowances were said to be below actual expenses on the second trial. This was after our bills had been rejected. The attorney's fees in that case were alright, because the lawyers had followed the case to this county.

In regard to charges against himself speaker would say very little.

The charge of $5.50 for going to Verdi was right; he always paid one dollar fare; was told that he could go for seven bits; did not know whether conductor pocketed other bit or not. He had given Charles Queen, who was fond of such cases, five dollars to go up, and hoped the Workingmen would not expel Charley for taking the money. The speaker claimed that he had the right to verify any claim growing out of his office; the Attorney-General supported him; the grand jury was wrong in saying that the Clerk overcharged in matter of jury certificates, that was wrong.

Beck—"We did not report that as overcharge."

Cain—"Yes, I guess you did."

Beck—"I state it as a fact that we did not. We thought, however, that it cost too much."

Mr. Cain resumed by saying that the Rover transcript business was right. The Supreme Court had thrown it out because it was not properly in the case, but the Clerk ought to have pay for the work done.

Beck—"Read the decision of the Supreme Court on that point."

Cain—"Oh, I've read it."

Beck—"Let me read about five lines."

Cain—"I'll read it for you."

Mr. Cain did not read it but proceeded to say that the grand jury was right in the matter of inquest cases; twenty-five cents was all the Clerk should get; he had fought the Board on that; Hymers went to Virginia to see about it and said on his return: "Well, Cain, you'll have to give in," but Cain did not.

The military roll charge was also correct, and he quoted several charges of Shoemaker's upon this and other points which Mr. Cain thought were precedent for Mr. Comstock.

Mr. Cain said that he did not assert that the Clerk's bills were all right, but if we took out these matters which had been explained there was only $282 left.

Beck—"Take that out and there won't be anything."

In conclusion Mr. Cain defended the Commissioners, said they had no power to return upon their acts and he had no right to put his judgment up against the County Commissioners. Everything would come out right and we should have peace.

Mr. Alexander took the floor and said that although Mr. Cain had taken most of the evening, he desired, with that gentlemen's permission to ask him a few questions. The speaker was at loss to understand what caused Mr. Cain to change his mind so often.

Perhaps he was wrong before the jury and right now, if so it was desirable to know that fact. He had admitted that things were wrong by implication once and now they were all right. The speaker disclaimed any intention of discourtesy to Mr. Cain, but would with his permission ask some plain questions.

Mr. Cain assented.

Q—"Did you ever give the grand jury a direct answer to one of their questions?"

Cain—"I think I did."

The speaker contradicted the assertion and referred to any number, from the Chairman, Mr. Duck, down.

Q—"Did you not when before us admit that some things in the Sheriff's account were wrong, and express astonishment at them?"

Cain—"I think I did; I said the bills were not properly made out."

The question called for a direct answer, which Mr. Cain did not give.

Q—"Did you not admit the Flynn bill and others of the kind were wrong?"

A—"I don't remember it; don't think I did."

The questioner called Mr. C. A. Bragg as testimony to Cain's action before the committee. That gentleman contradicted Mr. Cain's assertions, and said he reminded him of one Bradley, who testified at one term of Court and then appeared in the same case at a subsequent term.

After he had testified, a lawyer asked the Court if that was the same Bradley. "Yes; it is." "Well," said he, "I should have never recognized him by his testimony." That was the way with Cain. He was not the same man before the committees and before the people.

Shortly after Mr. Bragg arose, Mr. Cain took his hat and left, declining an invitation to remain and explain matters further. Mr. Alexander pointed out his inconsistency and unwillingness to answer a direct question, affirming that such evasion and such his action had led up, in a great measure, to the trouble. Disclaiming any desire to prolong the meeting or occupy the house's attention, the speaker gave way.

Mr. Beck offered a resolution that M. C. Baker, C. A. Bragg, J. F. Alexander, C. A. Gibson, and Alvaro Evans be added to the investigating committee previously appointed. He defended his resolution; said the first report had been squelched, and they had, in his absence, bulldozed his resolution; he proposed merely that the grand juries be represented.

Dr. Hogan offered a substitute; and arose to a question of privilege to say that on the first night he had intended nothing wrong by his motion to adjourn. He had heard it rumored on the streets, but it was wrong.

Mr. Soderberg and Mr. White offered a substitute.

Mr. Waldo offered a substitute. No second.

Mr. Bowman did not like what the Gazette had said about the committee, but approved of Dr. Hogan's plan.

The Chair claimed that he had appointed the committee with good motives.

The substitutes were all defeated, and Mr. Beck's motion carried unanimously. That gentleman said he was willing that discussion should cease. He had lots more to say, but would not claim any more time. The military roll, for which the Clerk charged two and a half days work, had been copied in good form for Mr. B. It took just four hours and thirty minutes to do the work. Mr. Beck endorsed the showing which had been made against Cain, and said his action was the same with the last grand jury. On motion of Mr. Duck the check for $1,000 was returned to Mr. Beck. Meeting adjourned without day.

WHAT WE MOST DESIRE.—It has been a cherished dream with the editor of this paper that when affluence stared him in the face, and his purse became plethoric with guineas, that he would purchase and wear a pair of pants with a pocket behind. This is not an idle whim or fancy, but a fixed purpose with him, and the time now seems near when the fond dream can be fully and satisfactorily realized. The collector of this family paper has, by strenuous exertions, gathered enough shakels to buy the pocket, and when we get enough new subscribers to enable us to purchase the complete rig and enter upon a season of happiness. We hope that our friends will grasp this situation and aid us in the good work. The price of the Gazette has not been raised, even under such a temptation.

SPECKLED.—Ed. Reed came in on Wednesday bringing 3,000 pounds of Pyramid lake trout. They go to Virginia city and San Francisco. We know where Reed keeps his fish after arriving in town and we get ours very low. If the hole in the window was a little larger we should make a few shipments ourselves.

Closing Exercises.

The closing exercises last evening of Mt. St. Mary's school, were attended by a large number of the parents of the pupils and other friends of the school. The calisthenic march was very pretty indeed and was led by Miss Mary Haydon and Gertrude Grant. The first prize is an elegant gold medal designed and executed by I. Frederick's. Katie Grippin, Mary Alt, Maggie Sullivan, Mary Young and Armenia Grippin, were equal contestants for this prize all having the same standing in their studies and deportment. The prize was therefore determined by lottery and won by Miss Katie Grippin. In the plays of the evening, special mention may be made of Mary Haydon in the operetta "Red Riding Hood," and Miss Gertrude Grant as "Archangel" in the play of the "Angels of the Nations." In the examination in the various studies taught, we are informed that the following boys and girls did especially well: In arithmetic, Dennis Sullivan and David Alt. In grammar, Dennis Sullivan, David Alt, Jennie McKernan, Mary Haydon, Mary Young, Maggie Sullivan and Katie Grippin. United States and Ancient history, Mary Alt, Jennie McKernan, Nora and Ella Mills, Gertrude Grant, Mary Van Vranken and David Alt. In algebra, best scholar, David Alt. In elocution, best scholar, George Smith. In music, Maggie Sullivan, Susie Schumway and Mary Haydon. The entertainment last evening closed with a dance. We did not learn the amount received from the sale of flowers, the wheel of fortune, door receipts and the sale of refreshments, but presume the entire net receipts will be near $200. The next term will begin about the middle of August or first part of September. The term of commencement will be determined by the time of the completion of their new building.

SODA FOUNTAIN.—Messrs Osburn & Shoemaker, have their fine soda fountain in operation and now hold themselves in readiness to dispose the cooling draughts, with any syrup which one wishes, for the modest sum of one bit. The ladies may now take a drink without let or hindrance.

We surveyed this fountain as an innovation, and when Osburn spoke of the refreshing lemon-syrup plus carbonic acid and aqua pura we thought it must be something which would prove poisonous to the masculine stomach. A draught or two assured us, however, if we measured our feelings aright, that the astonishment produced by this delectable potion to our internal receptacle was, as nearly as we may imagine, akin to that produced by the nectar of Leander when he drank to the eternal felicity of his adorable Hero.

Ladies, give this fountain a call while the stuff is fresh, but take along your purses as Osburn refuses to shake for the drinks.

Shippers' Notice.

The following items may prove of interest to those who ship cattle, sheep and hogs from this part of Nevada: By an act of the California Legislature, passed April 3d, we find that "No company operating any railroad in this State (California) shall, in carrying or transporting cattle, sheep or hogs in car lots, confine the same in cars for a longer period than thirty-six consecutive hours; without unloading for water, rest and feed, ten consecutive hours. In estimating the time of such confinement, the period in which such animals have been confined without such rest on connecting roads shall be computed. In case the owner or person in charge refuses or neglects to pay for the feed and care of the animals so rested, the railroad company may charge the expense thereof to the owner or consignee, and retain a lien upon the animals until the same is paid."

Rolls of Honor.

The roll of honor for Miss E. M. Emery's department for May is as follows: Ben Leete, 93; Solie Raphael, 96; Sammie Howard, 92; Fritz Walker, 95; Andrew Griffin, 94; George Hammersmith, 95; Anna Becker, 99; Elsie Conkey, 96; Albert Stine, 94; Charlie McFarlin, 94; Emma Hammond, 96; Carrie Haslund, 99; Emma Haslund, 95; Jennie Palmer, 95; Esther Phillips, 95.

The following is the roll of honor for the School for Girls for the month of May: Jessie Kirkpatrick, 97.2; Mary Rogers, 97.2; Addie Stowe, 97; Mary Grippen, 96.7; Lizzie Miller, 96.7; Nettie Chase, 95.6.

SCHOOL BUILDING.—The public school Trustees held a meeting last Wednesday and decided to issue the $20,000 bonds for the purpose of building the large school-house, upon which the qualified voters of the school district voted last April. A question was raised among many of our citizens (and we hold to the same view) that the election was not carried affirmatively. The Trustees have obtained the opinions of a number of the best lawyers in this State and find that the term qualified voter in this connection is the man who lawfully registers his name and actually casts his vote. If this be the correct interpretation of the law governing this special case, the proposition for a school-house was carried and the bonds may be lawfully issued. They will, therefore, issue said bonds unless restrained by injunction, when the whole question will be thrown into Court for final decision.

INDIAN WHISKEY CASE.—Shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night Billy Ross arrested a party by the name of Rodgers for giving whiskey to an Indian. Yesterday the accused was brought before Justice Richardson and a formal complaint made out, and he was sent to the county jail for thirty days. He asserted that it was a job to arrest him, and as he went out of the court-room, remarked: "When I get out I'll make the county pay for this." Avery saw the same fellow attempt to give whiskey to some Indians on Saturday night, but the Indians gave him warning too soon.

GRAND OFFICERS.—The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., in session at Virginia, yesterday elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Grand Master, W. H. Davenport of Eureka; Deputy Grand Master, J. C. Smith of Virginia; Grand Warden, E. P. Davis of Aurora; W. H. Hill of Virginia, G. S.; Representative G. L. U. S., Wm. Lucas of Reno. The next session will be held in Virginia city.

PHOTOGRAPHIC.—Lovewell's photographic car arrived from Chico, California, on the lightning express, and is located opposite Hagerman's. We are glad to see a good operator and fine pictures. Mr. Lovewell's sister cannot be excelled as a finisher. We see by the Chico Enterprise, that the car has been literally crowded for over a year. We predict the same here for his short stay.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.—A house-breaker entered the store-room of the Golden Eagle hotel yesterday and did considerable damage by cutting open several valises and scattering their contents on the floor. Mr. Barnes did not miss anything and can not imagine the cause of this mischief. Entrance was effected through and from an adjoining apartment and then down from the ceiling.

MOWERS, REAPERS AND RAKES. Mr. C. W. Perry made a successful experiment with one of the Wheeler No. 5 mowers yesterday. This morning he received from the east, a number of D. M. Osburn & Co's. mowers and reapers. To-morrow he will receive a car load of Lion rakes and other farming machinery.

CONGREGATIONAL SOCIAL.—The Congregational social will be held at the parlance this evening. Mr. and Mrs. Drahm take this opportunity to extend a hearty invitation to all friends and strangers in Reno. Come and have a good time. Strawberries and cream with cake served.

REMOVAL.—A rumor having gained some circulation that two members of the tax-payers committee refused to act, it may be as well to predict that proper action will be taken should the entire committee resign. We do not believe, however, that any member will be found wanting.

CLOAKS, ETC.—Elsewhere will be found the local ad. of the Weil Brothers. This ad. best explains itself and weakens the reader's perusal of the same. These gentlemen have infused much life into the dry goods trade and merit the patronage of the lady public.

BULLION.—Last night's bullion shipment from the bonanzas, aggregated sixty-seven bars, apportioned as follows: Nineteen Con. Virginia, valued at $74,328.63, and forty eight California, valued at $230,064.70.

The National Gold Medal was awarded to Bradley & Rulofson for the best Photo graphs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world.

Potter Investigation.

The investigation into the alleged Louisiana and Florida frauds was continued yesterday. Cox, of the committee, said that he had received from Stanley Matthews, the originals of the correspondence between him and Jas. E. Anderson, which the clerk read. The letters appeared in Anderson's previous testimony, with the exception of one dated Philadelphia, April 23d, wherein Anderson resigned all claims upon the Administration, requesting Matthews to secure for a friend of his in the office of the North American Newspaper, a position in the Philadelphia Custom House, worth from $1200 to $1400 per annum. Butler offered a resolution inviting Stanley Matthews to appear before the committee and testify, which was unanimously adopted. Judge A. B. Levisse, of Louisiana, a practicing attorney in Washington, was sworn, but before his examination was begun some of the committee wishing to vote on the tobacco tax left the room, interrupting the investigation.

On re-convening of the committee, Judge Levisse testified that he had been offered by one Asher $100,000 to cast his vote as an elector for Tilden. Asher was the only person who had spoken to witness on the subject.

In response to a request to detail as much as he remembered of the conversation with Asher, Levisse said that after a few preliminary remarks Asher asked him if he would be willing to accept a round sum, say $30,000 or $40,000, and refuse to accept his certificate as an elector. He, however, did not respond cordially, and the offer was raised to $100,000. He gave Asher to understand that he thought it was worth more and finally said: "Tell your man who has money he has not got up to my price yet."

A man named Johnson, whom he did not know personally, had made an engagement to meet him at the hotel, but it was not kept. Some ladies at the house, who were intimately acquainted with Johnson, said they believed he was desirous of making a bargain with witness to change his vote, and stating as their reason for so believing that a remark was made by Johnson, the effect of which was: "If I was in Levisse's shoes I would make $100,000 out of it."

Anderson Contradicted.

CHICAGO, June 6.—An Inter-Ocean New Orleans special says: Anderson's testimony excites great attention here. From here he will be proven a perjured liar. It will be proven that he signed his protest upon the day of his arrival in New Orleans, November 10th, 1876; that it was drawn in his presence and from his own lips, and that in November last it was on file in the records of the State Department in its original condition, and without addition or interlineation. It is a question whether the records of State have not been tampered with in aid of the Tilden plot. As early as November last many of the most important documents appertaining to the election of 1876 were missing from the office of the Secretary of State. These include various consolidated statements from the bulldozed parishes, all of which passed into the custody of the Nicholls' government. Pitkin leaves tonight to give testimony in Washington, which will be disagreeable to the Democrats. One gentleman here will, it is alleged, testify that he was offered $20,000 by Tilden agents to testify falsely on this matter.

A Times Washington correspondent thinks that Butler has undoubtedly gone over to the Democrats, and that his action in yesterday's session showed this.

Salt Lake Items.

Fears were entertained for the safety of a party of Salt Lake miners who left here last month for the Salmon river, but news was received from them yesterday, stating they had got through all right without interruption from the Indians.

Tickets for the excursion of Salt Lake to San Francisco are being sold quite rapidly, and the party will leave on the 25th. They expect to spend the Fourth in that city.

A Revolver, a Bowie Knife and Death.

An affray occurred at Firebaugh's Ferry, San Joaquin county, California, on Tuesday night between two Mexicans, Pancho Blanco and Cayetano Moreno, in which the former was stabbed to the heart and the latter was shot three times. Justice Numan held an inquest Thursday on the body of Blanco, which resulted in a verdict of justifiable homicide. Moreno is not expected to live.

A Deserved Verdict.

Evidence is increasing of the existence of a plot to assassinate the Imperial family of Germany. A printer at Posen has been sentenced to four years in prison for using offensive observations with regard to the Emperor.

Thirty-seven persons have been arrested for speaking disrespectfully of the Emperor of Germany on the streets. One was sentenced to two and a half years imprisonment for bewailing Dr. Nobeling's failure.

Probable Consequences of Nobeling's Attempt.

A Berlin dispatch of June 6th, says: The recent attempt on the Emperor's life has been a peg upon which to hang all sorts of unfounded and wild statements, particularly in regard to the immediate effect of the assassin's shots upon William. Although the exaggerated reports of the condition of the Emperor were exposed and the public warned against them, they were so persistently circulated by quasi government organs as to create a suspicion that they were encouraged and countenanced by the authorities for the purpose of manufacturing popular opinion in favor of repressive measures. The recent defeat of the government's anti-Socialist bill in the Reichstag was a source of great chagrin to the Court and Cabinet, and they will be glad to take advantage of the new situation created by Nobeling's crime to reverse it. It is expected that an extraordinary session of Parliament will be convened to discuss legislative measures for the repression of the present dangerous agitation. The Prussian Cabinet is also considering the advisability of adopting special measures to prevent the spread of Socialism.

A bulletin announces the condition of the Emperor as satisfactory.

Mexican Claims.

It is said that if the Senate shall concur in the house amendments to the bill relative to the payment of awards under the Mexican and United States Commission, the result will be to require Mexico to consent to a rehearing of $147,000,000 of claims against her which were rejected by the commission, and to the hearing of any claims which were not presented, in place of the investigation which she has asked of the Weil and La Abra claims only, which were allowed by the umpires.

The Laredo Troubles.

A special from Laredo of June 6th says: Last evening the revolutionary pickets attacked the outposts at New Laredo, and, after exchanging a few shots, retired. One man was killed and another wounded on the government side. Loss of the rebels not known. General Agila, the Laredo commander, is now operating here alone, with a force of about two hundred and fifty men, mostly cavalry, and his force is increasing daily.

Mormons.

The steamship Nevada, which arrived in New York June 6th, had 341 Mormons on board, who spent the night in Castel Garden. They are accompanied by two elders, who have spent two years in Great Britain, Sweden, Denmark and Germany, securing converts. Six hundred Mormons will arrive in about a month, mostly from Sweden.

Dragged to Death.

At Marysville, California, June 6th, at the close of work in the field of B. F. Walton, a colored boy named John Spotts, one of the header hands, whilst riding one of his work horses from the field to the stable, was thrown from the animal, and his leg being caught in one of the traces, he was dragged a considerable distance and killed.

Patrick Welsh, an ex-Catholic priest, made a public attack on the Roman Catholic and Protestant Episcopal churches at Long Branch on Sunday afternoon. In the evening he was dragged out of Father Walsh's Church and severely beaten.

Anderson Proves His Qualifications as a Scamp and Perjuror.

The investigation into the alleged frauds in Louisiana and Florida at the last Presidential election, was resumed June 4th. Chairman Potter read a communication from the Secretary of State, in reply to the request of the Committee, to the effect that the original returns from Florida and Louisiana were not in his department and he was unable to forward them to the Committee. Jas. E. Anderson was recalled and said there were numerous corrections he desired to make in his testimony of Saturday. These were made, but were unimportant, and his cross-examination was begun by Representative Reed. In reference to the agreement, signed by Nash and Anderson, to suppress all evidence of fraud in East Feliciana parish, together with the statement made by the witness on Saturday that there was no evidence in his possession at the time he signed the agreement, Anderson said: "On the day I signed the agreement there was no positive evidence in my possession affecting the local affairs of my parish; at the same time, I knew it was the intention to throw the parish out on a forged protest."

At this point considerable time was occupied by the Committee discussing the character of questions proposed to be put witness concerning certain parts of testimony given by him before the Louisiana Investigating Committee at New Orleans. The protest contained Sherman's report as a witness, on Saturday, referred to as having been filled in and altered, was then given to Anderson that he might mark the alterations. After which the cross-examination proceeded. Witness, in course of his answers, acknowledged that he had, intentionally and under oath, misled the Senate Investigating Committee while at New Orleans, for the purpose of carrying out the bargain he had entered into with the Republicans.

The Estate of the Late Mark Hopkins.

The petition of Mary Frances Sherwood Hopkins for letters of administration on the estate of her late husband, Mark Hopkins, sets forth that the value of his property belonging to the estate, as far as is known to applicant, consisting of lands, domestic animals, household furniture, bonds and mortgages and stocks of various railroads and other corporations, is of the aggregate value of $10,000,000, all of which was acquired by deceased after his marriage. Next of kin of deceased is petitioner, 50 years of age, residing in San Francisco, Samuel Fredrick Hopkins, brother of deceased, 75 years of age, residing at St. Clair Michigan, and Moses Hopkins, brother of deceased, 60 years of age, residing in Sutter county, California. The matter of the application for letters came up for hearing yesterday afternoon, and considerable difficulty was experienced in reference to the amount of bonds required. Two bondsmen were required by law, who must qualify in twice the value of the estate, or $20,000,000 each. Leland Stanford and Chas. Crocker testified that in their opinion outside of railroad interests, the value of the estate was $5,000,000. The difficulty of requiring such enormous bonds was obviated by depositing in the bank of California all bonds of the Central Pacific, Southern Pacific and California Pacific railroads, a receipt being taken therefor. The administratrix bond was then executed for the remaining property, each qualifying in the sum of $10,000,000. As deceased died without leaving a will, the widow takes three-quarters of all the property, and the two brothers one-eighth each.

Condition of Emperor William.

The Emperor's condition yesterday was generally satisfactory. He now occupies a room fronting on the Unter den Linden, and learning that measures were to be taken to prevent noise in the neighborhood, requested that the passage of carriages on the opposite side of the avenue and through Opera square be not interfered with. The Emperor is very cheerful and his rapid recovery is confidently expected. At the first fire the Emperor received seven shots in the right forearm and wrist and five in the hand and face. His helmet is completely riddled. By the second discharge he received about twenty shots in the left upper arm and shoulder and six in his neck. The folds of his thick military cloak deadened the effects this discharge.

The Winner of the Derby.

The great event of the English racing season, the race for the Derby stakes took place yesterday at the Epsom summer meeting, and was won by General Peel's bay colt Sefton, Count F. Delagrang's black colt Insulaire seconded, and Lord Falkmouth's bay colt Childeric third.

The sale day of Dayton delinquent stock has been postponed until Thursday, June 13.

The Socialist Conspiracy in Germany.

A Berlin dispatch of June 5th, says: It is difficult to obtain authentic information concerning all the ramifications of the conspiracy, but the following statements may be taken as being approximately correct: The present condition of Europe has given hope to the revolutionary leaders, who for a long time have been waiting for a favorable moment to strike the desired blow. Intense discontent pervaded Germany, but there was danger of an outbreak of a general European war. In the glamor of military and dynastic triumphs the wrongs of the people are lost sight of. Even the sufferers by war would be dazzled by its victories, or cowed by the display of military strength that would everywhere be made. It was accordingly deemed necessary in the secret councils of the revolutionary leaders to strike a blow that would alarm the crowned heads and cause them to retreat from their purposes. It is believed that at a consultation of the revolutionary leaders there was a discussion as to which sovereign should be chosen as the victim. Victoria was ruled out because she was a woman, and because it was said by an English member of the cabal that if the revolution was successfully started on the continent England would feel it as well under the Queen as under a republic. Humbert was proposed as well, also Alphonso, but it was agreed that they were insignificant victims. Nothing Republican now and will be communistic to-morrow. Germany was chosen as the field of action and the Emperor will by necessity be the victim. It will not be long, it is thought, ere the whole details of the conspiracy will be made known, although it is said that the authorities are now disposed to keep everything very secret.

Deadwood Doings.

A man named John Reed was frightfully gored on Main street June 3d, by a vicious ox attached to a freight train. The sharp horn entered just below the right nipple and fairly impaled the victim, who was with difficulty extracted. The chest of the wounded man was literally torn open and death followed.

Frank Anderson, a notorious thief and bank robber, was arrested here Sunday night on a warrant from Sandusky, Ohio. Anderson was disguised as a pantry boy and was working in the Welch house. He fled on the approach of the Sheriff, but was brought down by two pistol shots. The Black Hills has become a hiding place for many desperate men.

Andrew T. Byrne, formerly of San Francisco, dropped dead in the Office saloon June 3d of heart disease.

George Adler, once acquitted in Pennington county for the murder of Thomas Garvey, was arrested June 3d in this place for a murder committed in Lawrence county.

Fanny B. Price commenced an engagement at the Deadwood Theater June 3d in "Fanchon."

The wife of Chambers C. Davis, formerly assayer in the Consolidated Virginia mine, died here June 3d.

From Portland.

A Portland dispatch of June 4th says election returns are coming in very slowly, but sufficient have been received to induce the Democrats to believe that Whitaker has been elected to Congress. Earhart (Republican) is generally conceded to be Secretary of State. Nothing can be definitely said concerning the remainder of the State ticket. There is a growing impression that the Legislature will be Democratic. The result can not be positively stated for two or three days.

The troops ordered to Boise city by General Howard, will start Friday. Two companies will go from Fort Canby, six from Vancouver, and all those at Walla Walla. In consequence of the unsettled feelings among the Indians on the Upper Columbia, no troops will be drawn from Wheaton's command there. Altogether, about 500 effective men can be concentrated at Boise, but it will take two weeks for them to reach there. General Sherman telegraphs General Howard that in the movement to be made, department lines will be ignored.

Anderson Confesses to Perjury.

The force of Anderson's testimony given before the Potter Committee on Saturday was greatly weakened by his cross-examination yesterday. He equivocated at every turn, and was handled without gloves by Representative Reed in such a manner as to impel McMahon to interpose several times for his protection. He was, however, forced to admit that he gave false testimony last Saturday, or that he deliberately suppressed the truth and wilfully misled the Senate Committee when under examination by it last winter. He chose the latter horn of the dilemma and avowed that he had systematically deceived the Senate Committee while under oath to tell the whole truth, but he thought this was not the same thing as perjury.

These admissions created such a marked sensation that the committee had to take a recess as a means of restoring order.

A decree has been issued proclaiming the regency, and nominating the Crown Prince Frederick William as regent. The decree is signed by Prince Bismarck.

Carson Theatre.

From Mr. D. A. Bender and T. F. Laycock we learn that Carson's new theatre will be one of the best opera houses in this State. The frame of the building is up and Messrs. Miller & Cook, the builders, are pushing their part of the work forward with all possible dispatch. The contract calls for the completion of the theatre by August 10th, but it is thought it may it may be used on the evening of the 4th. The building is 120 feet long by 50 feet in width, and the auditorium is 50x75 feet, thus making one of the largest and best arranged halls in the State. The audience chamber of Piper's Opera House at Virginia is 36x36, or 107 square feet larger than the Carson theatre. The stage is 25 or 26 feet wide, thus giving full opportunity for large troupes to properly present their pieces. Yesterday Mr. T. F. Laycock was awarded the contract for painting the building and all the scenery. Mr. L. estimates that it will take him nearly two months to complete his contract. The drop-scene will be painted upon the model of one of the leading New York theatres, and will be one of the finest scenes in the United States. The builders and painters are Reno men, which fact is quite a compliment to our little town.

A very sensible Resolution.

A World Washington special says the Judiciary Committee of the House yesterday took important action on the resolution of the Maryland Legislature, and the accompanying bill introduced by Kimmel, to invalidate the Presidential title, and decided adversely on each, on the ground substantially that the decision of the electoral commission, made in accordance with law and ratified by Congress, could not be disturbed by any action of this Congress, except through a constitutional course of impeachment, Fairbridge, one of the brightest members of the Judiciary Committee will probably call upon the resolution in the House to-day, when it will command a very large majority vote.

Bannocks On the War Path.

The following private dispatch was received this morning by one of our citizens:

ELKO, June 7th.

A Shoshone Indian came into town this morning from Duck valley and reports to Gheen that a large body of Bannocks, three-quarters of a mile long came down on Duck valley reservation and drove the whites and Indians out of the valley. They are safely now in Cornucopia, except the keeper of the reservation, who would not leave. The Bannocks threaten to kill Gheen and all of the tribe.

These Bannocks are a warlike tribe of Indians from Oregon. If this report shall be corroborated north-eastern Nevada may have a little Indian war of its own. This will give nutriment to the Times-Review.

Crops, etc., North.

From Mr. S. A. Gibson, proprietor of the Pollard house, who has just returned from a trip into Lassen and Plumas counties, California, we learn that the crops in that section are very fine, and the yield from that section will be very large this year. He says that the grasshoppers are not troublesome on any marked extent in Sierra valley. On two ranches there are some of these destructive insects and they have injured a few acres of growing grain, but the farmers do not apprehend much danger from them.

The mines near Quincy and Crescentville are doing well, and taking out a considerable quantity of paying ore.

Gortschakoff is sufficiently recovered to go to the congress. He will be accompanied by Count Schouvaloff and Prince Dourbril, the Russian Ambassador at Berlin. The Agence Russe says the Eastern question will be dealt with in a broad sense; with the object of reaching a common understanding and consolidating the peace of Europe. The Czar came to the city to advise with Gortschakoff.

From the Silver State, we learn that suit has been brought in the Fourth District Court by George Bennett, plaintiff, against the Central Pacific railroad company and Crittenden Thornton, defendants, for the sum of $50,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by said plaintiff by the fraudulent and malicious prosecution of the defendant. Bennett was arrested, tried for burglary and sentenced to 156 days in the Humboldt county jail. It is enough to make one mad and ask for damages. Wonderful how a man values his time and character under some circumstances.

Jerry Brusoe, driver of the Genoa and Silver Mountain mail stage, was shot May 30th, by a man named Wood Flippin, who asked to ride. The wounded man has been brought to Genoa and his wounds are dangerous. The citizens of Alpine are out in force in search of the assassin, who, if found, is liable to meet with speedy punishment.

The old Board of Directors of the Wells Fargo Mining Co. have resigned, the following and have been elected in their places: J. M. Walker, President; Dr. Coryell, Vice-President; E. M. Hall, Robt. Sherwood and A. J. Adams, Trustees. James T. Crossman has been elected Superintendent.

End of the Pollard Prosecution.

The agony is over. The "sports" have drawn their wagers and the loquacious glamor of the local gossips is as silent as the harp which hung in Tara's Hall. Yesterday when the case of S. M. Pollard—charged with the offense of false personation—was called before Justice Abbott, the case was dismissed at the instance and request of the prosecution. This was the last of the three charges which had been preferred against the defendant in this most remarkable prosecution, and of course S. M. Pollard, whether man or woman, is again as free as the sunlight. Thus ends one of the most incomprehensible transactions which ever appeared before any examining magistrate in Christendom. Thousands who reside at a distance and who are unacquainted with this strange, eventful drama will doubtless regard the whole affair as a most ridiculous farce, but we who are familiar with the entire surroundings, feel that there is and was, a mysterious something involved in the affair which baffles conjecture and thwarts the understanding. The reticent, discreet deportment and sang froid of Pollard, together with the inexplicable conduct of his mate, intensifies the mystery, and now that the legal proceedings are at an end a feeling of general wonderment pervades the community. Pollard still adheres to his promise to satisfy the public mind, and renewed his pledge to us yesterday that he will shortly make a satisfactory statement through the columns of this journal. In the meantime the taxpayers of this county have reason to rejoice that the expensive bother is at an end.—Times-Review.

Closing of the May Festival.

The Musical Festival closed Thursday under the most satisfactory conditions. An immense crowd was present. Every seat was taken, and standing room occupied. It is estimated that 12,000 persons were present. The audience and performers were in the best of spirits, and the programme, which was composed largely of martial and patriotic, was rendered with vim and accuracy, and repeatedly aroused the enthusiasm of the audience to the highest pitch. Zerrhan and the Eastern singers all concur in awarding the chorus and orchestra the highest praise for power and excellent training. Governor Irwin, Mayor Bryant, and a number of other prominent gentlemen were escorted to the pavilion by the Oakland Light Cavalry and San Francisco National Guard. A salute of thirteen guns were fired on their arrival. The distinguished guests were escorted to a box and the military were dispersed in seats in the rear of the chorus, their brilliant uniforms adding greatly to the animation of the scene. The "Star Spangled Banner," by Mrs. L. P. Howell, with full orchestra chorus and artillery accompaniment, closed the performance in grand style. The festival has been an entire success as a musical venture; and, although accounts have not yet been balanced, it is believed that results will prove satisfactory from a financial standpoint.

The Burlington Hawkeye says: The Missouri Press Association is now in session at Springfield, Missouri. We wanted to go, awfully, but we couldn't. The onion bed needs weeding, the grass in the front yard hasn't been cut yet, the verbenas bed has to be spaded up, the baby is teething, and the tramp to whom was given our only summer clothes is prowling around Indiana hen roosts in them. Indeed, brethren, we can't get away.

Concerning the Austin and Battle Mountain narrow gauge railroad the Revelle says:

A BODIE ZEPHYR.—The Esmeralda

Herald of June 1st has the following:

There appears to be, at times in Bodie, some misunderstanding in relation to the ownership of town lots, buildings, etc. These little troubles usually are settled with a wordy war and that is the last heard of them. But last Sunday night the style of doing the thing was varied. About dark a party of men began removing a well-known saloon that had been in litigation for some time past. They did not take the house down just according to architectural rule, but they took it down all the same, and put it in sections and quarter-sections on the other side of the street. Several persons tried to see the manner in which it was done, but owing to the way the boards, posts, rocks and other missiles flew about they considered it not safe to be too inquiring, and therefore kept at a respectful distance. When daylight came the lot was vacant and there was not a vestige of the house to be seen, unless a mass of broken and splintered lumber down the street could be called such. Washoe zephyrs are proverbial for their fierceness, but it is doubtful if Bodie can not make a stand-off.

The Elko Post speaks a word for

Tuscarora: Reports derogatory to Tuscarora having been circulated by interested parties, the camp itself has in a measure been injured—had a set back—as the saying is. But time will tell, and although there is not now the bustle and excitement which characterized the camp last year, when hundreds of buildings were being constructed and the rush of humanity was so great; yet much earnest and intelligent work is being done in the mines, and the production of bullion continues. There is not so many loafers and bummers to be seen on the streets, they having departed for other fields. Eligible building lots command good figures, and some buildings are being erected. It is not true that merchants are discouraged, or that they are offering to sell out at half price and leave. Why should they? Where could they go and do better? There will be some astonishing ore developments in Tuscarora before many months.

FASTEST TIME.—Now that the great race between Ten Broeck and Mollie McCarthy is a settled thing, their respective records is a matter of much interest. While Ten Broeck has a record of the best time, it is claimed by Mollie's backers that she has made much better time in private than is officially credited to her. The time of Ten Broeck is as follows: Four miles, 7:15; two miles, 3:27; one mile, 1:39. This record, also of fact, was not made in a race, but against time, and is the best ever made. Mollie's record is as follows: Four miles, 7:38; two miles, 3:30; two miles, 3:30; one mile, 1:43. She has never run a three mile heat race and the above time was made in regular races.

SACRAMENTO AS A TRADE CENTER.

The business men of Sacramento, as well as all her people, have now the firmest confidence in her future greatness. She has withstood the greatest flood on record in this valley, and has demonstrated beyond a question that with the careful measures being adopted for the perpetuity of her system of levees, she is forever safe from the ravages of the waters.

How and Why She can Supply Goods of Every Description Cheaper than They can be Bought in San Francisco.

We answer—because she has advantages possessed by no other locality—saving in freight charges, no wharf rates, low rents and light expense. Her merchants buy direct from the large manufacturing of the East and have the goods shipped by rail to their doors.

Sacramento contains some of the oldest and most firmly established mercantile houses on this coast, including everything in the line of groceries, hardware, agricultural implements, paints and oils, stationery, crockery, liquors, drugs, clothing, carpets, gas fittings, jewelry, woodenware and earthenware, furniture, stoves and tinware, boots and shoes, etc.

Her manufactures are extensive and varied, including carriages and wagons, machinery, brass work, pails and tubs, boxes, brooms and matches, plows, harness, cloths, gloves, confectionery, pottery, iron work, sashes, doors, etc., soap, yeast powder, marble works, pumps, windmills, flanging mills, leather, etc.

Her lumber yards are among the most extensive in the State; her foundries and machine shops among the best; her breweries numerous and good; in fact, there is not a line of business which may be mentioned which is not represented in Sacramento.

She possesses many fine dry goods houses, clothing houses, millinery shops, fancy goods stores, etc.; her book and news depots are of the best. She possesses every facility for doing any style of printing and binding. No better hotels or markets can be found anywhere.
